Health and Safety Policy Statement

We at Marine Industrial Diesel Applied Services Ltd, believe that the health and safety of our employees, sub-contractors and everyone else affected by our activities is of paramount importance, and that there is no distinction between our long term financial success and our duty to keep our employees and all other persons safe. It is an intrinsic part of our success as a business and will remain so.

Our policy:

Is to ensure a working environment in which no one is harmed. We will achieve this by identifying, any hazard and risk involved, and eradicating these risks wherever possible. To establish firm control, and directives for the management of any that remain.

We take our health and safety performance seriously and we will endeavour to erase any possibility of serious accidents and injury from our business. We will set out clear objectives and ensure that an effective health and safety management structure is implemented across the board of all operations, irrespective of global area. We will adhere to UK health & safety law as minimum standard.

We will:

- Continually involve all employees, sub-contractors, and clients in promoting and sustaining excellent health and safety practice which demonstrates our commitment.
- Through the provision of information, training, instruction and supervision, develop the necessary competencies, to enable our workforce to comply with all health and safety requirements and to perform their duties safely.
- Develop a working practice where everyone makes safety a personal issue and helps to create an accident free environment through understanding their impact on health and safety, by looking out for their own and their colleague's safety and by stopping work and seeking guidance if they are involved in an activity which they believe to be unsafe.
